Crimson ID is a software designed to allow you to unlock your device and remove the lock screen entirely. In an age where the lock screen is used as the full screen of security in many mobiles, twitters, and social media sites, it is common for users to lock and root their device and use it for things other than interacting with social media. With the lock screen fully removed you have the full access to the device like rooting in a rooted phone or unlocking the bootloader. The thing that makes criminals really sad is that the lock screen is not really hard to unlock, but rather it is all about the input that unlocks the device and now you can! With a simple tap of your finger on your finger touch screen, your device is unlocked in just a matter of seconds. CrimsonID Features: • Easy and simple lock screen removal • Allowed to make changes to the phone boot screen • Can also enable your device to allow passcode locks • If your device has more than one finger on the touch screen, just hold on for longer and unlock the device I have successfully tested the software on the following Phones: 1.
